Mrs. Handsaeme Is Laid to Rest

Funeral services over the remains of Mrs. Isabella Handsaeme, beloved wife of August Handsaeme, were held in the United Church, Raymond, Thursday afternoon, Sept. 10th, the house being filled to capacity and many standing on the outside unable to get in.

The Rev. H. F. Williams, of Lethbridge, conducted the services which were very touching, and brought tears to the eyes of many in attendance. "Nearer My God to Thee" was sung by the congregation, and the Reverend took his theme for the sermon from the 21st Psalm.

The Great War Veterans attended in goodly numbers, as Mr. Handsaeme was a returned man and the flowers were beautiful, and profuse.

Mrs. Handsaeme was a woman loved by all who knew her. She was the mother of five children, ranging in age from 17 to 5 years, and her motherly heart had reached out to others, thereby winning the love, admiration and respect of all who knew her.

She succumbed to hemorrhages caused by typhoid fever, her death was a great shock to the entire community, the sympathy of the citizens goes out to the bereaved father and children in their deep loss.

Mrs. Hardy, a sister, from Calgary was here for the funeral service, and deceased is survived by three brothers living in Ireland.

SOCIAL FOR MR. AND MRS. LONGMAN

A social evening was enjoyed at the United Church, Raymond, on Thursday evening of last week, when members of the local parish, and a number of visitors met at the Church to honor Mr. and Mrs. Longman, who are now residing in Edmonton.

A most enjoyable evening was spent and near the conclusion Mrs. Stevenson on behalf of those present made a presentation of a lovely Tea Wagon and Folding Mirror to the guests of honor, and a suitable response was made by Mr. and Mrs. Longman.

Mr. and Mrs. Longman have been very energetic workers in the local congregation, and their departure with that of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Gilbert will be felt keenly by the remainder of the members.

A JUNIOR FARMER BEATS HIS SENIOR

On a 30 acre plot of wheat Albert Zobel gets returns of 1000 bushels. An average of 33 1-3 bushels per acre. This is a slightly higher average than that achieved by his father. Good clean summerfallow—no weeds—early work in cutting and stooking made this result possible.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our deep and heartfelt appreciation to all the kind friends who in any way assisted in the recent illness and death of our beloved wife and mother. For the ones who helped with the funeral, the flowers, and all who assisted during the illness, we extend our thanks and assure you that your kindness will never be forgotten.

Mr. A. E. Handsaeme and children.

The new duty on Magazines and Periodicals which was made effective the first of this month will result in some 55 American magazines not appearing on the shelves of Canadian book stores for the present at least. Some of them are planning on printing in Canada, and time will show which will be sold. Eight have already made arrangements for being printed in Canada.

1st Ward M.I.A. Social

The Opening Social of the Raymond First Ward Mutual held Tuesday evening in the High School was successful in every way, and augurs well for the success of the Mutual work during the coming winter.

Pres. J. O. Hicken was Master of Ceremonies for the evening and kept things moving nicely from the beginning of the party shortly after 8 p.m. until the last dance at midnight.

The following program was carried out, part of it in the Auditorium and part in the Gymnasium.

Speech of Welcome by Pres. J. O. Hicken.

Cornet Solo—Paul H. Redd.

Speech, Bishop H. F. Allen, who proved a real mirth provoker in his introduction of the new Mutual Officers.

Piano Solo—Rol Stone.

Song by the Boy Scouts.

Dance by the Mi-Kan-Wee Girls of the Primary who are graduating this year to the Y.M.C.A. work.

Vocal Trio—Sybil Bacon and Co.

Refreshments of Peanuts, Candy and Licorice occupied the time of the crowd for half an hour, and then the Premier Orchestra tuned up, and kept the crowd dancing until midnight, everyone apparently enjoying the entire evening.

LOVELY RAIN FALLS

Clear weather is the order of the day again, following the soaking rain of Tuesday and Wednesday. No frost yet in the district, although only the fact that the wind is blowing has saved gardens, as the air is quite fresh, and frost is not far away. There will be a great improvement in much of the garden stuff if frost holds off for a couple of weeks or so. Cutting wheat what little is left started Friday afternoon again. The beets will benefit greatly by this storm, and digging will commence the latter part of next week becoming general by the 22nd or 23rd. Everyone is smiling over the copious and beautiful rain, which terminated a long period of drought.

News Notes

Mr. and Mrs. A. H. Zabriskie and Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Card were visitors at Waterton Park on Labor Day.

Mrs. Maurice Cooper spent the week here visiting with friends and relatives. She came down Monday with Mr. and Mrs. S. I. May.

Mr. and Mrs. Thos. Allen were in Medicine Hat on Labor Day visiting with relatives. It started raining early Tuesday morning, and Tommy says he didn't even stop for breakfast until he felt gravel under his car wheels. We don't blame him.

J. T. Simpson met with an accident on the way to Calgary over the weekend, and while damaging the tip of his new Chrysler considerably, it was a lucky escape for the five people who were in the car. Crossing the rail way in a low place, and on a turn, the wheels were still on a slight angle when the car hit the road again, and this started them to the ditch, and despite everything the car got out of control and turned over three times. Luckily no one was hurt. They were not travelling at a very fast speed, but the turn caught them just right to cause them to lose control of the car for a second, and it was all over.

The Town Hall was well filled on Monday evening last when the regular Board of Trade Meeting was held, with Vice-Pres. O. H. Knight in the Chair.

The minutes of the last meeting, also the financial statement of the Stampede and the Board of Trade Monies were read and accepted.

A resolution was then passed that a Committee of O. H. Knight, W. G. Meeks and L. D. King, be appointed as Trustees of the Raymond Board of Trade Stampede and Exhibition Reserve Fund, and that only on the combined signature of these three can any of this money be withdrawn, and that only on a vote of 75 per cent of the Board's membership can any of this money be voted for any purpose.

The Secretary, T. L. Halpin then read a letter of resignation, due to his being transferred to Rockyford, Alberta. It was moved, seconded and passed unanimously that in view of his leaving the resignation be accepted with regrets and that the Board move a hearty vote of thanks and appreciation for his excellent work.

Nominations for Sec-Treas. were then called for by the Chair, and S. I. May was elected unanimously.

J. W. Evans then reported the trip to Edmonton made by the Committee of the Board of Trade, in connection with the closing of the School of Agriculture. He stated that the Government had received them cordially and listened to their plea, and then explained the Government's attitude, and stated that while they were disappointed at the verdict, they felt the Government was justified in their course. The Committee had suggested that Mr. Asplund might take a course of boys in classes on Agriculture during the winter months, and the Premier could see no objection to this if the class could be arranged with Mr. Asplund. Messrs. T. C. King, J. W. Evans and Wm. Redd were asked to follow this suggestion up and see what could be done.

Mr. Connor was present and stated that the Committee had put up a good case and all that could be done had been done. The report was accepted. A motion was then passed regarding the playing and operation of the Board of Trade account in the Bank.

The question of the Raymond-Craddock road was then opened for discussion. The presence of Mr. Connor, our local M.L.A. was much appreciated as it kept talk within the realm of possibility. The proposition was introduced by O. H. Snow who reported that the Municipal Council were all agreed as to route, etc., and they also felt that relief would be necessary and that this was one of the most feasible projects for such work. The scheme could be put through for about $27,000 and under the relief arrangement, the Dominion Government would pay half, the Provincial Government 25 per cent and the Municipality 25 per cent. It was not the intention of the Municipality to confine the work to local people but that it might suffice for Southern Alberta so that of Lethbridge, and help everyone. The Municipality was ready to go ahead as soon as the Government would accept the proposition. Mr. Connor could see no reason why this project could not be put through, and as far as he was aware would qualify for such work better than any thing in the south. Everyone was seeking favors and the Government in quite a problem trying to provide for their own need help. Mr. Connor said, but he was in favor of this project and said that he thought Mr. McPherson would consider the idea kindly.

A number of resolutions and motions were then passed which included the sending of a delegate to Edmonton with a representative of the Municipal Council to take the matter up with the Government. That the Board endorse the action of the Municipal Council and do all possible to help it. A resolution Committee of T. C. King, Wood and O. H. Snow was appointed to draft a resolution for the Board of Trade in this matter.

Other discussions were introduced as being the danger of the road near the Nine Mile Coulee, and signs, or improvement in road bed was urged and Mr. Snow, speaking for the Municipality said that something would be done.

A hearty vote of thanks was extended to Mr. Connor for the long trip he had made to be present.

The meeting adjourned at 10.15 p.m.

News Notes

Dick O'Brien has been home for a few days following the rain, visiting with friends and relatives.

Ross Larson and Ted Courley were Lethbridge visitors on Thursday of this week.

E. L. Gray

BORN in Ontario, educated in the schools of Saskatchewan and at the Ontario Agricultural College, now field crops commissioner in the Alberta Department of Agriculture, E. L. Gray gives to his work as chairman of the Alberta Committee of the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference a wealth of agricultural experience.

Mr. Gray's home is in Grey County, Ontario, where he was born in 1895. In 1902 he moved to Saskatchewan with his parents and received his early education in the public and high schools of that province.

In 1923 he graduated from the Ontario Agricultural College, after which he taught school in Saskatchewan for three years. He served overseas during the war with the C.E.F. and for a time acted as a county agricultural agent in Ontario. His agricultural experience was greatly increased during the period he occupied the position of farm manager and instructor in animal husbandry at the School of Agriculture, Lethbridge, Alberta, and for nearly three years as district agriculturalist at Regina, Alberta.

School Fair Is Big Success

The School Fair this year on Friday of last week, was a decided success and a source of satisfaction to those who had the arrangements in charge. Every section was well represented, and outstanding exhibits could be mentioned by the score.

To see the array of Vegetables and Field products didn't look much like drouth. Two or three squash there would not begin to go into a water pail, and several cabbage just as large in fact every kind of vegetable practically was represented, and the judges had a real time picking the winners.

Pennmanship, Industrial Art, Domestic Science, School Work, Sewing, Livestock and in fact every department was well filled with entries, and the interest of the boys and girls, not only in their own exhibits, but in the Fair as a whole, showed a keen love for this sort of thing, and a deeper appreciation of quality products than the passer by would think.

It is to be hoped that this work will be continued. It appears to be the best possible way of making better farmers, gardeners, and home builders of our boys and girls, because they are getting the experience first hand, and at an age when it will stay with them.

A list of Prize winners will be found in another section of this paper.

Raymond's inmates of the Galt Hospital are all reported as progressing favorably at present.

A gravel surface at Perce's Service Station has made a decided improvement in the appearance and also in the cleanliness of this property.

STORING ROOTS

(Experimental Farms Note)

In a climate where sub-zero temperatures clamp down as suddenly as they often do in Canadian West the storage of roots is quite a problem. If pitted to snugly before the weather turns cold they are liable to heat and sprout. If not promptly cared for when the weather turns they are likely to be nibbled. Time and again the Superintendent of the Beaverlodge Substation has stored some temporarily for autumn use with a covering of straw or straw plus a little earth. At most invariably the last and sometimes the most of these roots are caught by an unexpected onset of rough weather, frost penetrating the pile especially where exposed by daily removal.

The ideal root storage for Prairie Canada is a dug-out cellar opening into a stable so that it may be entered safely in any weather. The cellar may be well banked with earth and the lid have one or more ventilating shafts. In the extreme weather of mid-winter the ventilators may be stuffed with sacks of chaff, or shavings. At other times they may be more lightly studded, being opened entirely by day in mild weather. A thermometer near the floor will assist in regulating the ventilation safely.

If the bin is large it is well to have a false floor and walls, with air space under and around the roots. A shaft or two in the centre of the bin will also help.

With such a cellar roots if stored in sound condition may be kept firm and appetizing until May, and a few will be of great advantage to all classes of livestock toward spring.

Funeral services over the remains of the two year old baby boy of Bishop and Mrs. James H. Walker were held in the Raymond Second Ward Chapel on Tuesday afternoon at 2 p.m. with Counsellor W. A. Heninger conducting, and Chas. B. Strong in charge of the Choir.

A large crowd, considering the weather was present to show their respect and sympathies to the bereaved family in their hour of sorrow, and the services from beginning to end were very touching.

The speakers were Jas. S. Anderson and Pres. J. W. Evans, who spoke of the glories and beauties of the Resurrection and offered much consolation and comfort to the parents in their temporary separation from their loved one.

Special musical numbers were a Vocal Duett by Mrs. L. D. King and Mrs. Emma Burr and a solo by Mrs. Earl Scoville. The Choir under the direction of Chas. Strong rendered some very appropriate and lovely hymns.

The opening prayer was offered by Pres. H. S. Allen, the Benediction by Coun. O. H. Snow. Pall bearers were all sons of the family and brothers of the deceased child.

Interment was made in the local cemetery.

The sympathy of the entire community goes out to the family in their sorrow, and on behalf of them the Recorder thanks all who assisted in any way during the illness and death of the child.

Frank Shaw was one of a party who spent Labor Day at the North Fork. Frank was tired when he got home, but enjoyed the trip and says he is going again soon.

RICH FUR SHIPMENT ENROUTE TO ENGLAND

Nearly half a million dollars worth of fur gathered from the sub-Arctic barren lands, is enroute to London, England, via Canadian National Railways. The shipment, seventy-five bales in all, was composed of priceless pelts—silver-fox, white fox and a few choice beaver skins.

The shipment, which left Winnipeg on the Continental Limited on August 28th, was brought down by boat from Chesterfield Inlet and trading posts along the bleak west coast of Hudson Bay. The cargo is said to be one of the richest in a decade and marks a come-back in Northern Manitoba for fur business. The year's struggles of trappers—white, Indian and Eskimo over a tract of thousands of miles of barren, treeless country, are represented in the unimportant looking sacked bales.

During recent years the catch has been steadily declining along the Bay coast, but in the past winter were exceptionally heavy, principally white fox, of which there was a sensational run. This is the richest single shipment ever made over the Hudson Bay railway line.

HIS RISE

During some blasting operations in a quarry, a man was blown into the air, happily without serious results.

The foreman having impressed upon the man the importance of keeping at a reasonable distance during the operations, the matter was dropped, apparently forever.

It was, however, revived unexpectedly on pay-day, when the foreman handed the man 44s. 11 1/2d. Instead of the usual 45s.

The latter inquiring the reason, he was startled when the foreman replied: "That's a ha' penny off for 'time you were up in the air last Wednesday."

Marvellous Mexico

DOWN in Mexico, about forty miles from the city of Tehuantepec, lies the Hacienda Chivela, an estate of 125,000 acres. It was given to Hernando Cortes by the King of Spain many years ago. Here he erected a long, white walled house which is still occupied. Employed upon the hacienda are many men and women. Some are old, some are young and some are mere children.

Diego, a fine and worthy chap, the yard boy, and Lucia, beautiful and comely, is one of the servants in the kitchen. Diego loved Lucia and Lucia loved Diego. Don Julio, Lucia's father, was quick to see what was happening not only about the great white walled house but in the little Zapotec village where most of the hacienda's help lived. The other servants hoped Don Julio approved, as Diego was a universal favorite.

Then there came a day when Diego, accompanied by his boy friends, came to Don Julio's little thatched cottage to ask for the hand of Lucia in marriage. The father was dignified and courteous for a time. "No," he said finally, but firmly, "you cannot marry Lucia." "Why not," said the suitor, "I am honest, hard-working and will always be faithful to your daughter." Then the old man blustered and stormed, "You are too ugly, go and marry a monkey." The argument became louder and more furious until Diego was dragged away by his friends.

In a few days Lucia, wonderfully and becomingly dressed and carrying some flowers in a beautifully painted gourd, stood at the cross in front of her father's house. Diego appeared riding upon a pony and followed by his friends whose horses trotted along behind.

As the cavalcade was about to rush down the trail with the captured bride-to-be, Don Julio burst in upon the scene, slashed his machete right and left, cursed and demanded, "He was too late."

After Lucia had remained three or four days with Diego's aunt in a neighboring village, her father found her and with much injured dignity demanded that Diego marry her at once.

The wedding fiesta lasted three days without a break. Don Julio was the most interested participant and, if possible, the happiest man of the party. In fact several times he had been fearful of the outcome of the courtship he had always watched with growing interest and fondest hope.

The ancient Mexican custom, inherited from old Spain, however, had to be observed.

This interesting incident, related at some considerable length by Emma-Lindsay Squier, who visited the hacienda a few months ago, gives one but a mere glimpse at marvellous Mexico. It serves, however, to attach a greater interest to the wonderful exhibit now being prepared by Mexico for the World's Grain Exhibition and Conference to be held at Regina in 1932. It will occupy a frontage of twenty-five feet. To see it will be next best to a visit to the country itself.
